

Extraordinary Timex Expedition WS4 is more than a watch

Bharat | Feb 3 2009

Timex Expedition WS4 is extremely beyond the symmetric wristwatches that we have seen watchmaker deliver over period. Though, the Expedition WS4 is equally like all other Timex sport watches, but it distinguishes for the fact that it does more than the others we've seen. Besides the normal feature of telling time, the watch also features an altimeter, barometer, thermometer, chronograph, alarm and compass. Lit completely by Indiglo, the WS4 comes in rubber strap, which can be mounted to a fabric strap, is water resistant up to 50 meters and will be available in May for $200.
